REFERENCE:-

In para 3 of its reference cited above, the Board while submitting proposals for the recruitment of some clerks for training in advance of the formation of the temporary survey parties, observed that in the matter of their recruitment, consultation with the Madras Public Service Commission was unnecessary and that they might be given the same pay that may be allowed for the clerks of the temporary settlement parties. In the G.O.cited above Government sanctioned the Board's proposal for the employment of 16 clerks. In G.O.Ms. No.1782, Revenue,dated 29.7.48 Government sanctioned the employment of another set of 16 clerks for the second batch of survey schools.

It was brought to the notice of the Board that this method of recruitment had not the desired effect as the response from candidates was poor and of the few who were recruited some resigned and took up service elsewhere after passing the examination held by the Madras Public Service Commission for recruitment to ministerial service. Actually there remained, when the first two survey parties were formed on 1-9-49, only 15 clerks in service against 32 santioned in the two Government Orders cited above.

On a re-examination of the matter, the Board considers that the future recruitments of the clerical staff for the tempora survey parties should be met by recruitment through the medium of the Madras Public Service Commission and that the 15 clerks already recruited should qualify themselves by passing the examination conducted by the Madras Public Service Commission for recruitment of candidates to the ministerial service. It has issued orders accordingly to the officers in charge of the 2 survey parties and the Range Officers who have to train the 16 clerks sanctioned in G.O. Ms.No.1782, Rev.dated 29.7.47 for the additional two survey parties. The special rules for members of the Ministerial Service and the scales of pay sanctioned in G.O.Ms. No.78,Finance,dated 6.2.47 may apply to the members of the Ministerial Service in temporary survey parties. The Board requests that its action in effecting a change in the method of recruitment of clerks for the survey parties, in modification of its proposal in its reference cited above and its proposal regarding the applicability of the Special Rules and the Scales of pay may kindly be approved by Government.
